What the Standards Review Program has meant for our museum

Opportunity to undertake a comprehensive review of governance of policies and procedures
The Field Visit by M&G QLD representatives and Reviewers provided very comprehensive suggestions for improvement we could consider and alternative ways we could look at recruiting volunteers to undertake project work.

Better understanding of the importance of prioritising or conservation efforts
The review has focussed us on the conservation aspects of our Strategic Plan. It will enable us to prioritise the conservation of our collection, look at our story telling and develop a more comprehensive maintenance plan for Pioneer Cottage.

Did you know?

Did you know the building called Pioneer Cottage was a common design for houses in Queensland around 1882, but this house was superior in style to the average four-room house? It is built of locally grown and pit sawn white beech, which is not readily attacked by termites. Red cedar was used for the three sets of French doors in each of the four rooms. The attic rooms were built as the family grew from four to eight children.

Did you know the first bread sold commercially in Buderim was baked by Ann Burnett at Pioneer Cottage? Ann was a tireless worker for the community and acted as nurse, midwife and lawyer for the townspeople regardless of their colour or creed. She had 8 children of her own but still seemed to have time for everyone in Buderim.
