

The Noosa Library Service Heritage Library collects, promotes, preserves and interprets history and heritage of the Noosa region from the original inhabitants, through the formation of the Shire in 1911, to the present day.

The collection is continually growing and includes books, photographs, maps, newspapers, magazines, audiovisual materials, oral histories and ephemera.

The collection is accessible to local residents, family and local history researchers, visitors to the region and anyone interested in undertaking research and discovering more about the many facets of the Noosa region.

The Heritage Library runs programs and events, which highlight the collection and Noosa's history and encourage lifelong learning. Interested locals and researchers are welcome to explore the collection.

What the Standards Review Program has meant for our organisation

Collection Management Policy

The library service Collection Management Policy includes the Heritage Library collection but not in detail. The Standards Review Program inspired and supported the drafting of a policy specific to the Heritage Library and its sub-collections.

Storage for digital collection

Discussions with the Reviewers highlighted the need for the sourcing and implementation of a more robust and streamlined storage system for the Heritage Library's digital collection items.
